SEE WON'T DEBATE; GIVES WOMEN ANOTHER RUB

Alonso B. See, who is staying at the Marlborough-Blenheim in Atlantic City, reiterated Sunday night that he will not debate with any woman to establish whether he was right or wrong when he said in a recent letter to Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, that "women average five ounces less brain matter than men."

The elevator manufacturer stated that he wouldn't accept any challenge to debate coming from women because of the fact that a woman can't debate. He further said that she couldn't keep her mind on any subject for five minutes at a time.

PLANES TO BOMB ICE JAM BELOW PORT JERVIS

Three bombing planes were expected to reach Port Jervis today about 8:30 from Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Maryland, to blow up the ice gorges that have filled the Delaware river between Port Jervis and Milford, Pa., eight miles down the river.

This is the first attempt of this sort to relieve a crisis that menaces a city, and unless something dislodges the ice the first heavy thaw or rain will probably cause serious floods. Residents of Port Jervis are recalling the flood back in 1904 when the city resembled the Italian Venice.

Telegraph wire communication west of Chicago was badly crippled.

In numerous parts of the west thunderstorms were reported. In some places snow and sleet turned into rain as the day progressed.

BADER'S DEFINITION OF RELIGION IS THE BEST

Thinks Dr. Grant—Religion Based On Biological Law.

"Definitions of Religion" was the subject of Dr. Percy Stickney Grant's sermon Sunday morning in the Church of the Ascension, Fifth avenue and Tenth street, New York city. His sermon was made up chiefly of references to the written opinions of men of letters, philosophers and scientists on the origin, scope and purpose of religion. He said that he considered the most perfect definition of religion to be one by William Bader, who wrote in a footnote of one of Henry James's works:

"Religion is that activity of human impulse toward self-preservation by means of which men carry on the essential purposes of humanity, though against the advance pressure of the world."

Dr. Grant said that religion is not based on the supernatural and is the result of a biological law. He referred to the life of Jesus as the greatest adventure that the world ever saw. He further stated that the life of Jesus was just as much a fact as the great war.

Dr. Grant also said that religion does not consist of going to church or chanting prayers or creeds.

CUVILLIER TRIES AGAIN TONIGHT

Will Move to Get Mulligan-Gage Repealer Out of Committee—Annual Appropriation Bill Ready.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, March 12.—The first real test of strength in the attempt to repeal the Mulligan-Gage state prohibition enforcement law will come tonight in the assembly when Assemblyman Cuvillier, New York Democrat, moves to have the excise committee discharged from further consideration of its repeal measure.

While Cuvillier claims he will have 78 votes, two more than necessary, to discharge the committee, the belief prevails at the capitol today that he will find he is mistaken when the votes are actually counted. In other words, it looks as if the state dry law is going to remain on the statute books so far as the present legislature is concerned.

So far the wets have fought a losing fight. Both the excise and codes committees, to which the dry law repeal bill had been committed, have refused to report them. In addition, the ways and means committee has killed the Cuvillier resolution calling for a legislative investigation of the Anti-Saloon League, of which William H. Anderson is state superintendent. But despite all this the wets are still hoping they will be able to scrap the state dry law.

The Democratic bills repealing the Lusk anti-sedition law, which have passed the senate, probably will find their way on the assembly calendar this week. With Speaker Macboid opposed to the repeal of these laws, there is little chance that the Democratic bills will pass the lower house.

Bills carrying out Governor Smith's waterpower recommendations are expected to be introduced this week. They will provide for state development and control of the state's vast waterpower resources. One measure will provide for an appropriation of $75,000 to aid the attorney general in fighting for the annulment of the federal waterpower act.

Senator Walker, the Democratic leader in the upper house is expected this week to introduce a bill calling for lower telephone rates throughout the state. In announcing that he was planning such a measure, Senator Walker declared he did not believe the Republicans in the legislature would "dare" oppose it.

The annual appropriation bill will be introduced in both houses tonight. Its total is expected to be about $108,000,000, as compared with $102,000,000 last year. The annual budget, it was learned today, will be near the $150,000,000 mark. The state's revenue for the next fiscal year is estimated at $126,000,000, which will leave $24,000,000 to be raised by some new means of taxation. Governor Smith has been going over the appropriation bill for several days, trying to cut it down wherever possible.

The hearing Wednesday on transit legislation is expected to bring a large crowd to the capitol, particularly from New York city.

COOPERATIVE EFFORT TO REVIVE NEWBURGH RELIGION.

The Conservation Commission turned into the state treasury, $322,199.78 collected from fines, penalties, licenses, trespass cases and miscellaneous sources during the eight months ending March 1. This is an increase of $47,488.28 over the corresponding period of last year.

EXPLOSION IN DRUG STORE

HURTS 4 IN MIDDLETOWN.

Four persons were painfully burned and lacerated, buildings in the business district were rocked and fragments of steel were sprayed among employees, when a gas tube exploded early Saturday morning in the paint department of McMonagle & Rorer's drug store in Middletown. Heated to the point of combustion by a blow torch, the big tube burst as an official of the drug company and an errand boy were working over it.

As if a hurricane had originated in the building the large plate windows on both the North street and King street corners were shattered. A sheet of flame enveloped the four persons standing near the tube, which it had been thought was empty. Several customers in the front of the store when the blast occurred, were swept outside by the force of the explosion but were unharmed.

TAVANO GIRL WEEPS IN COURT

Hearing Adjourned Until She Secures Counsel—Police Chief Thinks She Had Ungovernable Desire For Baby of Own.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, March 12.—Her eyes filled with tears and her face twitching nervously, Angelina Tavano, 19, was arraigned in police court here shortly before noon today and charged by City Court Judge Leopold Minkin with kidnapping his three-year-old son, Leopold, Jr.

"I don't know what to say," she said when Judge Brady had finished reading the formal complaint. After a short conference with Police Chief Lash, the judge committed her to jail, until tomorrow afternoon. In the meantime she will be permitted to secure counsel.

"I do not believe you realize the serious position in which you have placed yourself, and for that reason I will adjourn the hearing until tomorrow afternoon so that you may secure counsel if you so desire," the judge said.

The girl was accompanied to the courtroom by Mrs. Mary Lewis, police matron, and several detectives. She has been detained at the third pretrial station house since she was brought back from Newburgh, where she was arrested with the boy late Saturday. She had been employed only a few hours as a nursemaid in the Minkin home when she disappeared with the boy last Thursday afternoon.

Police Chief Lash this afternoon ridiculed the girl's confession that she took the child because she had been disappointed. After several talks with the young woman, Chief Lash asserted he was convinced she kidnapped the little Minkin boy because of a desire for a baby of her own. The chief said he based this conclusion on the fact that the girl's own baby died last fall.

The girl told the chief that the day after she reached Newburgh, she bought the little boy a new suit, paying $8 for it, despite the fact that she only had $10 left, because she wanted him "to look nice."

While the Tavano girl had worked in Patterson, N. J., and Newburgh, the local police say she originally came from Dundee Lake, N. J. She was known in Albany as Mary Coakling.

LITTS ARRESTED IN AN AUTOMOBILE TRANSACTION.

Accused of Selling Car to Another Man—Arrested in Poughkeepsie.

John Litts, Jr., of Lloyd, was arrested Saturday in Poughkeepsie by Sergeant Hanley on a warrant sworn out by William Pintard, of the town of Esopus. This morning in police court Judge Schirck granted an adjournment of a week and fixed bail at $500, which was furnished. From the story as brought out at the time the warrant was issued, Litts bought a Packard car of Pintard, who held a chattel mortgage on the machine, as the full price had not been paid by Litts. Litts, it is claimed, sold the car to James Austin of O'Neil street before the chattel mortgage had been satisfied, and he is charged with a violation of the law which makes it a misdemeanor.

RUHR VIOLENCE MORE INTENSE

Nearly Dozen French Soldiers Killed Or Wounded—French Officers Shot In Back.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Essen, March 12.—The worst wave of violence that has swept the Ruhr since the French entered, has taken place during the past 48 hours.

A dozen persons have been killed or wounded, mostly French soldiers. At Dortmund a French soldier was killed and five others wounded in a revolver battle with Germans.

A later report from Dortmund said that a German police commissary and four policemen were wounded.

The most sensational killings took place at Buer where Lieutenant Colton of the French Chasseurs and Chief Engineer Joly, in charge of the French railway engineers in the Buer zone, were shot to death.

German witnesses at Buer swear that they saw a French soldier fire the shots which killed the French officers. French officers deny this accusation. They are planning sharp reprisals, claiming that a German sharpshooter must have done the killing as both men had been shot through the back, the bullets passing through or near the heart.

The military rule at Buer has been tightened. The Lord Mayor was taken from his bed and arrested. A German child was run down and killed by a speeding French military automobile during the excitement that followed the discovery of the bodies of Lieut. Colton and M. Joly.

A tense situation exists in the Dortmund district. French troops reinforcements are reported on the way there.

PREPARING VILLA FOR JOLANDA'S HONEYMOON

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Rome, March 12.—The twenty room villa at Pinerolo is rapidly being put in shape for occupancy by the Princess Jolanda, daughter of King Victor Emmanuel, who is to be married on April 9 to Count Calvisio di Bergolo, a captain of cavalry in the Italian army. The villa, which overlooks an old steeple chase race course, has been leased for an indefinite period and the princess and her husband are expected to spend most of their time there except when in Rome.

The princess like most of the women members of European royal families, is very old-fashioned and conservative in her tastes. In the interests of economy Jolanda has consented to accept her mother's furs instead of buying new ones.

Her trousseau consists of only 24 dresses, a remarkably low number compared with the variety selected by members of royal families in prosperous days before the war.

AIRCRAFT DEFICIENT

WARNS WAINWRIGHT

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, March 12.—Expenditure of $25,000,000 a year during the next five years for the army air service alone, is vital to the safety of the United States, J. Mayhew Wainwright, retiring assistant secretary of war declared today in his final report to Secretary Weeks.

Within two years, Wainwright asserted, the air service will have on hand less than one-half the number of aircraft necessary for normal peace time work and with the airplane industry virtually extinguished, it would require a year to create the industry anew to produce material sufficient to meet an emergency.

Hypnotizing Animals.

In India it is known that a cobra caught by the neck and gently pressed will soon become stiff and remain so for a considerable time, either coiled up or out straight. A frog fastened to a board and turned suddenly upside down, goes into a trance. Other animals are susceptible to this treatment, some more quickly than others. If you pick up a crab and wave it in the air it becomes immobile, a female holding her legs over her abdomen, a male sticking them out almost straight. The same is true of the fresh-water crayfish, only this exists for a much longer time than the crab.

The Date Palm.

Date palms, originally brought from Egypt, have been growing in Arizona for 20 years. The early plantings of the University of Arizona, which have now come into full bearing, seem to prove that certain parts of the Southwest are particularly suited to date culture. An old Arabian proverb says, "The date must have its head in the fire and its feet in the water." The usual yield of a tree is eight bunches, weighing each about 17 pounds, though they sometimes weigh as much as 44 pounds. Some of the Arizona trees have produced as many as 18 heavy clusters—YOUTH'S COMPANION.

DI GLACOMA RECOVERS SPEECH—TELLS EXPERIENCE

Hammering on Vault Nearly Drove Him Insane.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Paterson, N. J., March 12.—Back from a living tomb, Charles di Glacoma, young bank clerk who was locked in a vault of the People's Park Bank through a co-worker's prank Thursday night, today recovered his power of speech. He told his reactions during the four and a half hours imprisonment, with rescue as difficult as modern safe construction could make it. He was half dead when released. The ordeal threatened his reason and left him temporarily deaf and dumb.

"During the first two hours in the vault I could breathe all right," di Glacoma said. "But the awful hammering of those who were working with sledges, crow-bars and acetylene torches to break through, nearly drove me insane."

"I knew I was in a serious plight and that I soon would breathe up all the air in the small enclosure. By degrees the air became so hot and heavy that I found difficulty in breathing."

"I began to feel weaker. My head spun round and round. I remember clutching at my collar and tearing it open so I could breathe easier."

"I was about to cash in when through the maze I saw the hole my rescuers had cut through the top of the vault. I climbed on top of a chair which was piled with ledgers, and pushed a note through the hole. 'Then I fell.'"

Desertions Disturb Navy.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, March 12.—Nearly 7,000 desertions and discharges "without honor," from the United States navy in the last eight months, will lead to vigorous steps by the navy department to check an apparently breakdown of morale among the enlisted personnel, it was learned officially this afternoon.

Desperately in Love

By MYRA CURTIS LANE
(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

Harry and Myrtle had met at a small dance at the house of a mutual friend. Both were young and impressionable, and they fell in love with each other instantaneously. Harry saw her home and went back to his boarding house walking on air.

Myrtle felt asleep about four o'clock in the morning after thinking of Harry for four hours and forty minutes.

When they met next day they knew that they were head over ears in love with each other. So they became engaged.

Harry had a pretty good position, both were in the same set, and their friends all said it was a good match. How they laughed at those friends. "If any one suspected how much we care for each other—what would they do?" asked Myrtle.

"Die, I should think," said Myrtle. She clung to Harry's arm happily. "It's so wonderful," she said, "looking at all these staid old married couples around us, who don't really care for each other the least bit, and thinking that we, by some miracle, have solved the problem of happiness."

Harry agreed. When he saw Myrtle in the street his heart started pounding. He thought of her all day long. They were desperately in love.

Then they had a quarrel. It was about which loved the other more. During its progress Harry felt the world dissolve beneath his feet. When Myrtle went away with her head in the air and a tear-stained face he felt that the only thing against suicide was the probability that it didn't end everything. He rushed round to Myrtle's house ten minutes later and they were reconciled with tears and embraces.

It was after the fourth or fifth quarrel that Harry discovered, to his horror, that the edge had worn off his rapture.

It was a terrible discovery, for they were to be married within the month. He was still awfully in love with Myrtle, only somehow things weren't exactly the same as they had been. His heart still beat furiously when he saw Myrtle in the street, but he no longer felt that suffocating feeling.

Poor little Myrtle. Of course she didn't guess. He must keep it from her at all costs. Now, he was simply in love with Myrtle. Before, he had been a sort of perambulatory lunatic, dreaming of her all day and all night.

He hid his change of feeling like a hero. But the romance had gone out of the thing. Myrtle had become just an ordinary girl. And then one day, about two weeks before the date set for their marriage, an astonishing thing happened.

They were walking in the country, and a long silence had fallen between them, and suddenly Myrtle said:

"Harry, I've been thinking we'd better not be married."

He gave a gasp. "What? What do you mean, Myrtle? Don't you—don't you care any longer?"

"Yes, Harry, dear, I do care still, but—not in the same way. I—Oh, it sounds dreadful to say so, but things have—have changed so—now. Now I'm only just—just fond of you."

"Myrtle!" He took her by the arm. "How long has this happened? What made you change?"

She was beginning to cry softly. "I—I don't know, Harry. I—I am fond of you, fonder than I can ever be of any one in my life. But it isn't the same. Don't you feel it isn't the same?"

"I suppose it isn't quite the same," Harry admitted.

"Then you don't care for me any more. I suspected that was it. Then of course I shall release you, Harry."

His pride flared up. "Very well, Myrtle," he answered; "and they went on in silence."

Presently he said: "I suppose if we had married we should have become just like those people around us that we used to laugh at. I suppose they once—it sounds incredible, but—went through the same process as we."

"I suppose so," said Myrtle dreamily.

After a while Harry said: "Myrtle, if everyone goes through all this, why do people get married at all?"

"I don't know," sobbed Myrtle.

And it was just then that some gate in Harry's understanding opened. Suddenly he caught Myrtle in his arms and kissed her.

"Harry, you mustn't—now."

"Myrtle, darling, I've got it."

"Got what?"

"Don't you see, if it's inevitable, it's the memory of the past people live on, when they're fond of each other, and they keep falling in love again and again. Myrtle, what love have been. I'm going to marry you. I—why, I love you just the same as before now."

Suddenly the old light leaped into her eyes again. "Why—why—Oh, dear, I see it now. Why we've never ceased loving each other at all, have we?"

Secret Diplomacy.

Never—How do you manage to keep your wife's relatives from pestering you with visits?

Longwood—Don't tell my wife. I pay the cook $2 a week extra to go on strike every time we have company overnight.

SEEK KENNY IN MINKIN CASE

Nurse Maid Says He Made Her Take "Dope"—To Charge Her With Kidnapping.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Albany, March 12.—The Paterson, N. J. "dope ring" today was linked with the kidnapping of Leopold Minkin, three-year-old son of City Court Judge Leopold Minkin, of this city, in a confession by Angelina Tavano, 19, who was arrested late Saturday afternoon in Newburgh with the boy. Police today are bending every effort to locate Joe Kenny, alleged dope peddler of Paterson, who is charged with the kidnapping. Miss Tavano told Assistant Attorney Delaney that Kenny followed her to Albany and "made me take dope."

Later today she will be arraigned before Police Court Judge Brady, when the formal charge of kidnapping will be made against her. She will then be remanded to the county jail until the case can be presented to the grand jury.

ACCEPT SCIENCE; REJECT MIRACLES; STRATON AMAZED

The Rev. John Roach Stratton, D. D., pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church in New York city, told his congregation Sunday night that he was amazed by the readiness with which intelligent men and women accept the theories of science and at the same time refuse to accept the miracles set forth in the Bible.

"They believe," said he, "that the earth was taken out of the side of the sun in an amazing and incredible manner, according to the nebular hypothesis, but they cannot believe that Eve was taken out of the side of Adam. The creation of sex is a secret so profound that doubtless the Creator could not have made us understand it even if he had tried, so he gives us a picture of it."

TEN DAYS FOR A TAXICAB HABIT

Abraham Post Had "Pleasant" Custom of Calling Taxi to Convey Him From East Kingston to City and Then Not Paying—Hospital Instead of Jail.

Abraham Post of East Kingston will spend ten days in the county jail on Wall street as the result of his "pleasant" little custom of "working" Kingston taxi drivers for free rides from that hamlet to this city. His latest victim was Earl Finch who received a call Sunday from Post to convey him from East Kingston to this city in his taxi. When Post arrived here he refused to pay the fare and Finch placed him under arrest. Post spent the remainder of Sunday night in the detention room in police headquarters.

This morning he was arraigned before Judge Schirick in police court where it was brought out that Post has been making a habit of calling up local taxi men to come to East Kingston and convey him here and then refusing to pay. At least six times he had worked the same game. He will now be given time to think the matter over as a guest of the county.

Edward Kelder was arrested Saturday evening on a charge of public intoxication. He was picked up on Broadway by Officer Martin. This morning when he was arraigned before Judge Schirick he was found to be very ill and a fine of $10 was suspended and he was sent to the Kingston City Hospital for treatment.

John W. Church was arrested this morning for parking his car on the wrong side of Thomas street. The arrest was made by Officer Shoenaker. As this was Church's first offense, and owing to road conditions, Judge Schirick discharged him.

IRISH DEPORTEES IN MOUNT JOY

By Telegram to The Freeman. Dublin, March 12.—One hundred Irish men and women, Republican sympathizers, charged with plotting against the Irish Free State, who were deported to Ireland from England late Sunday, were interned in Mount Joy jail today by the Dublin government.

Free State officials regard the arrests as most important. The prisoners are surrounded by an extra heavy guard.

It is understood that Joseph McGrath, chief military aide of the Free State government, has spent several weeks in England and Scotland laying plans for the raids by locating the irregular leaders. For months there has been a steady stream of munitions, arms and money flowing into Ireland from England.

Will show you how folks get those whiter, cleaner teeth

Go ask for a test of this new way of teeth cleaning. It means too much to miss. You see prettier teeth everywhere today. Learn how people get them.

Do this now. Millions of people of some 50 nations enjoy these benefits. Get them for yourself.

Film makes teeth dingy

That viscous film you feel on teeth is their chief enemy. It clouds them. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays.

Film absorbs stains, then forms a dingy coat. Tartar is based on film. That's why teeth lose luster.

Film holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay. That's why few escaped tooth troubles.

Germis breed by millions in film. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea, now so alarmingly common.

Now they curdle film

Old brushing methods did not effectively combat film. As a result, nearly all people suffered from it.

Now dental science knows two film combatants. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods by many careful tests. Then a new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. Those film combatants were embodied in it for daily application.

That tooth paste is called Pepsodent. To millions of homes it has brought a new dental era.

Advised the world over

Avoid Harmful Grit

Pepsodent erodes the film and removes it without harmful scouring. Its polishing agent is far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

Careful people the world over now use Pepsodent, largely by dental advice. It has supplanted in millions of homes the methods of the past.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

IN ZOOLAND SOCIETY

The Giraffe Family are still the leaders in Zooland society. There are none, who stand higher than they do.

Miss Libby Hippopotamus is the debutante daughter of Mother Chloe Hippopotamus. This means, that her daughter is ready to be a Pymy Hippo society bud. The daughter was named after Libby where the mother was born. The old home-stand was given up when the family moved to the zoo in the city.

Four American Bison have arrived at the zoo this year. They are all very choice and fine and Zooland society welcomes them.

The Indian Mongoose is giving a series of Friday afternoon talks on "Snakes We Have Killed," and other interesting topics. The Indian Mongoose is famous in India for the number of deadly King Cobra snakes which it kills so bravely, even though the Mongoose is a little creature.

The Mongoose sees and acts quickly and knows just how to catch a snake behind the head. The Cobra, strange as it may seem, has a weak heart, and after the Mongoose has caught the snake behind the head he whips him about so fast that the Cobra becomes dizzy and his heart gives way. These and other interesting facts the Mongoose will tell in his Friday afternoon talks. No admission charged. The Cobra would kill many thousands of people in India were it not for the brave members of the Mongoose family. As it is the Cobra does a great deal of wicked work.

Two pairs of Rocky Mountain Sheep and one pair of Mountain Goats have arrived in the zoo.

Another young Giraffe leader is expected to arrive with his mate almost any day now. They, of course, will add greatly to zoo society. Besides, they give the visitors so much to talk about. They are almost as popular as a topic of conversation as the weather is, they say.

The zoo is hoping to get a West African Pymy Elephant before long. The other animals say that this will be an addition to zoo society.

Some Royal Elephants are expected to arrive, too. They will surely give an aristocratic touch to the society of the zoo.

The Rine Bird is trying out his voice, which, it is said, sounds something like shots being fired. He says he has never been robbed for he is his own policeman and burglar would always be afraid of him.

Maudie, the Australian Kangaroo, is celebrating the approach of spring by coming out of her den, also bringing with her a fine young daughter which she carries in her pouch. She also carries a handsome son in her pouch, too, for Kangaroo mothers think baby carriages are not nearly so smart as pouches for carrying children about in.

A porcupine arrived at the zoo last week and it is said to be a handsome and a worthy creature for Zooland society.

A South American beaver, whose name, among those who know him well is Corpu, has also taken up his residence in the zoo.

A white-faced monkey has arrived and is a charming young monkey, it is said.

Khartoum, the African Elephant, has been getting fixed up for spring society by having a massage or rub and a fine bath. His toe nails, too, have been cut.

The Lions and the Tigers are greeting spring in their usual restless fashion by pacing up and down their yards.

Silver King, the Polar Bear, spends all his time in his bath. Spring is here and warm weather is on its way, he announces.

The Frogs have begun to croak and the Frog Glee club meets every evening for practice in preparation for the great spring concert. The other creatures say that the frogs need plenty of practice.

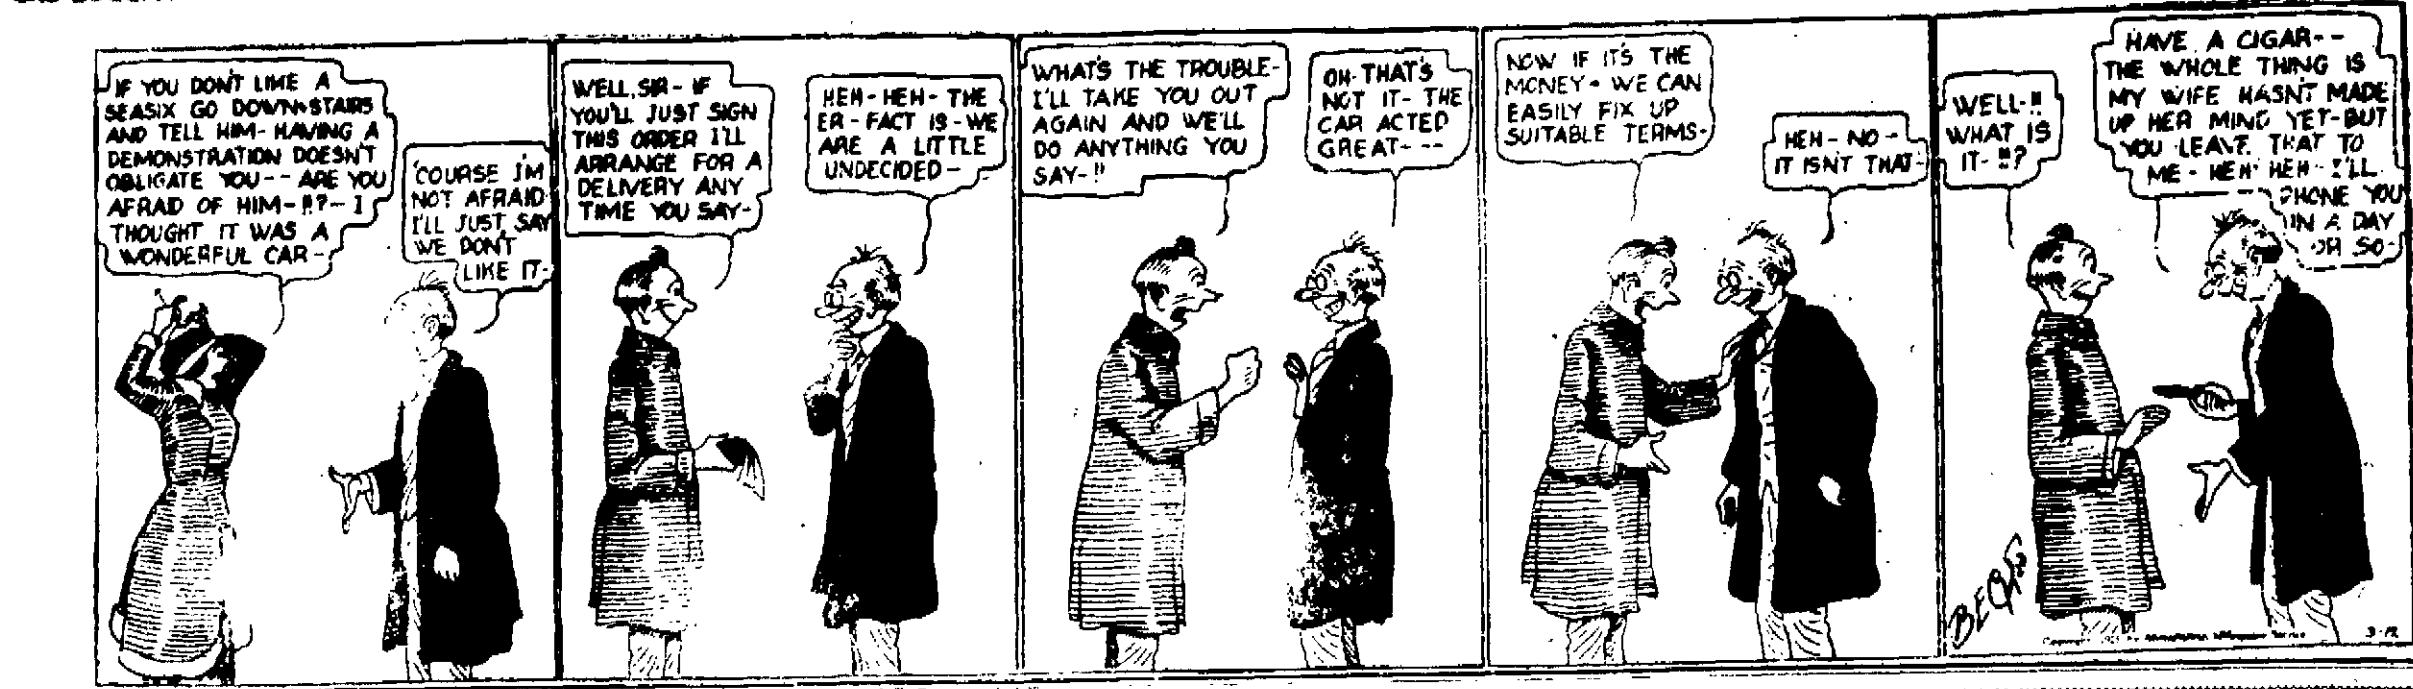

The Squirrels and Sparrows about the Park are still boasting of the Christmas party they had when the children came and hung bags of nuts and suet on the trees and wished them a Merry Christmas.

These are some of the latest items of news in Zooland society.

Announcing the 1923 GARDNER FOUR

With the notably improved Motor

The new and finer Gardner for 1923 is here—worthy successor to the car that placed the Gardner Motor Company among the eight largest exclusive manufacturers of four-cylinder automobiles in 1922.

Designed to give unusual performance with relation to price, the 1923 Gardner assures in service the economy found in Fours alone, combined with the smoothness and flexibility of a greater number of cylinders.

The secret is in the fine-bearing crankshaft of the improved Gardner motor—a feature found in no other four-cylinder engine—which has made possible greater power and greater speed without a discoverable vibration point.

The unusually generous equipment includes 32 x 4 cord tires; 18-inch hard-rubber steering wheel; motorometer with bar radiator cap; drum type lamps; channeled aluminum body moulding; genuine leather upholstery.

This balanced value is the reason for the full one-year written guarantee that accompanies every Gardner sold. Let us demonstrate the car; its story is best told upon the road.

MASONIC CLUB PLANS OPENING

New Club Rooms Will be Ready Later in Month—Club is Planning An Active Social Season—Membership Drive Closes March 15.

The Masonic Club of Kingston is planning a busy social season as soon as the club rooms on the two upper floors of the Measter building at No. 635 Broadway, are ready for occupancy. The formal opening will be held later in the month. Friday evening the members of the club will hold an important meeting at the new rooms to discuss plans for the season and arrange for the opening.

The social committee of the club is also planning for a "ladies' night" when the members will bring their wives and lady friends to inspect the new rooms and enjoy a social program. A dance is also being planned that will be equal to any held in Kingston in some time.

The workmen are progressing in the work of remodeling the rooms and the large dance and banquet hall and kitchen is nearly completed. The game room is ready to install the new furniture and the billiard room is being equipped with three pool tables and one billiard table. When the new tables are set up and ready the club will have one of the finest billiard rooms in the city.

The drive for members which started February 15, closes March 15, and is proving most successful. One member has proposed forty names for membership in the club, another 35 names; another 26, and several 15 or more.

Any Master Mason who desires to become affiliated with the club should get in touch with W. C. Coutant, secretary, of No. 49 Foxhall avenue, on or before March 15.

Essay's Prime Requisite.

Of all forms of literature the essay is the one which least calls for the use of long words. . . . It should give pleasure; the desire which impels us when we take it from the shelf is simply to receive pleasure. Everything in an essay must be subordinated to that end. It should lay us under a spell with its first word, and we should only wake, refreshed, with its last. In the interval we may pass through the most varied experiences of amusement, surprise, interest, indignation; we may soar to the heights of fantasy with Lamb or plunge to the depths of wisdom with Bacon, but we must never be roused. The essay must lap about and draw its curtain across the world.—Times Literary Supplement.

NEW CHURCH AT POUGHKEEPSIE

The new Holy Trinity Church at Arlington, a suburb of Poughkeepsie, was dedicated on Sunday. The church was built in twelve months and architecturally is one of the finest in this section of the state. The Very Rev. John J. Hickey, formerly of this city, assisted in the dedication of the church.

The new church is built in English Gothic style of architecture, of native blue stone, varied by cast stone tracery and trim. The whole is surmounted by a heavy stone roof inlaid in colors and by a bell cote in which has been hung the church bell. In the interior, which is finished as to walls in ornamental plaster on cement, and as to ceiling in paneled chestnut with crests and surfacing, there are three marble altars of artistic design.

All of the work was done by Poughkeepsie contractors.

A Notary 38 Years.

Byron C. Snyder of Woodstock has written to County Clerk Saxe requesting that a blank oath be mailed him to sign so he can receive a reappointment of notary public, made recently by Governor Smith. Mr. Smith says that owing to a bad cold and almost impassable condition of the roads to Kingston, he is unable to come. Further, Mr. Snyder writes: "At the end of the coming year I will have been a notary for 38 years and this is the first time I have had to send for a blank." His request will be granted.

BURNS PLANS A NEW DEVELOPMENT

Will Make Small Farms Out of Kiersted Tract on Esopus Creek Near Manor Avenue.

Arthur J. Burns of the Shattuck Realty Company has purchased the Alice Kiersted farm of one hundred and forty-eight acres, lying between Kiersted's lane at the end of North Manor avenue and the Esopus creek, which will be divided into tracts containing one, two, three and five acres each, and sold for development purposes.

The farm contains a sixteen-room house and a number of smaller buildings which will be utilized in connection with Mr. Burns's proposed development. Improvements will be made to the farm house which will make it one of the most desirable in the north section of the city.

The Kiersted farm, which adjoins the estate of Mrs. Williams Carter, is mostly level and fertile, and the Esopus creek forms one of its boundaries for about half a mile. There is also a small tract of wooded land included in the farm.

Mr. Burns's intention is to provide small farms of the size stated, which will be adaptable for poultry raising or market gardening. A number of intending purchasers have indicated their intention to erect substantial houses on their tracts, when procured, and the development of that section probably will be rapid.

PROF. TONK'S FIRST LECTURE

On Evolution of Italian Painting—
Technical Instruction Given in Way Not Uninteresting.

Prof. Tonks of Vassar College gave his first talk on "The Evolution of Italian Painting," at St. John's Parish House on Saturday afternoon. In spite of the rather technical sounding title of the lecture, it proved to be both very understandable and interesting. Prof. Tonks has a delightful sense of humor and the rare ability to re-incarnate the people of whom he talks, until they become acquaintances if not friends though they may have been dead hundreds of years. So, naturally the things they did become interesting.

Prof. Tonks said that his talk would be informal, and he would begin with a few definitions to clear up any vagueness as to what he might be talking about. The first manifestation of Italian painting is found in the first century. The first definition given was that of the term "fresco." This was explained as painting on damp plaster with the medium of distribution water colors of such a character as to withstand the lime and other chemicals in the plaster. The word itself, "fresco," means "fresh," and one could readily see that it would require an artist of an unerring hand to paint upon the damp plaster, which would not permit of erasures. And some skill was also required to set aside just so much work as the artist could do in a day, as entirely new plaster would have to be prepared for another day's work. First the design of the painting is drawn with a stylus that slightly indents the surface. The plaster in the old Italian frescoes was laid upon the wall about three or four inches thick.

Tempera was a mode of panel painting, often on wood, that, being almost transparent gave a touch of gaiety and vividness to the painting.

Oil painting, as the name implies was the mixing of the ground colors with some sort of oil, applying the same to canvas. Then there was still another form of decoration at that time which while not painting at all was greatly in vogue. It was mosaic, the work being done by setting tiny colored cubes of glass into a cement back. While the colors were vivid indeed, the work had no elasticity and was exceedingly slow.

Prof. Tonks then told of the destruction of early Roman art with the eruption of Vesuvius in the year 79, so that really our acquaintance with Italian art begins with the Christian religion.

The speaker described the paintings—frescoes—in the catacombs, where, done in the semi dark, they were made as vivid as possible and as broad in character as could be in order to be really visible.

When, in the fourth century, Christianity became the state religion, church buildings flourished vigorously in Italy, and then we find the most splendid mosaics. After the seventh century, the art of painting in Italy began to go down. After giving a little more history of art in Italy, Prof. Tonks introduced some of the earliest artists. Nicholas Pizano was held to be the father of Italian art, though he was a sculptor instead of a painter. Two carved pulpits with remarkable history as to their inspiration and working-out are the inheritance he bequeathed Italian art.

Cavallini was the first painter, and was of noble family. Naturalness is found in his paintings. Duccio and Cimabue were next introduced, and then Giotto, and a word picture of some of their paintings was given.

After the talk there were a number of exceedingly interesting slides showing of these oldest Italian paintings and mosaics, and their salient features were pointed out in a manner that made the educational feature seem quite obscure but which after all did give much valuable information.

Next Saturday Prof. Tonks will speak on "Giotto and his Successors." This lecture will also be illustrated, and will begin promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

HEBREW SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT

A very successful entertainment was given at the Kingston Hebrew school on Spring street, Sunday evening by the children of the school. A play, entitled, "Father, the Queen," was the feature of the evening. It depicted the story of Queen Esther and her deeds of patriotism to the Jewish cause for which Jews now celebrate the holiday Purim or Feast of Lots.

In addition to the play, several piano selections, recitations and vocal solos by local talent helped to make the affair successful. A recitation by Miss Dorothy Adelstein, a girl of eight years, called forth much applause. The Bergman children, Edna, Milton and Joseph, kept the crowd in constant merriment by their humorous songs and dancing.

Charles Katz of the Hebrew School Board of Directors addressed the large audience thanking them for their cooperation. The entertainment was in charge of Mr. Greenwald, principal of the Kingston Hebrew School, who also coached the cast of the play. Mr. Greenwald received many congratulations for the splendid management and coaching.

STATE KEEPS TRACK OF THIS ROOSEVELTIAN FAMILY

Some years ago the New York State Department of Health took occasion to congratulate a mother of 14 children whose births are on record in the division of vital statistics. Dr. Otto R. Eichel, director of that division, recently wrote again to inquire how the mother and her family were getting on, and has just received the following reply:

"In request to your letter about my family. Yes, the whole 14 are still living and there are no twins or triplets but all single babies—most of them are grown up and all doing fine. All of the boys have either good positions or trades and I am justly proud of my family. They never cause me any trouble as they are no drunkards or gamblers or loafers."

"I have three sons in the railroad in this city, all learning a good trade, and my oldest son is a contractor and builder, another is manager of a restaurant in Atlanta, Ga., and another a farmer, and four of my daughters are married and doing fine. All got good husbands, and I still have one daughter at home and the three small boys, and I am in the best of health if I did raise a large family."

The P. T. A. School No. 5 were greatly favored at their last meeting in having with them Mrs. Feder and Dr. Day. A. will furnish the school with some of the books which Dr. Day recommended.

Large Family Records.

Although 24 children in a family is not altogether an uncommon thing in the Province of Quebec, the birth of a twenty-fourth child to the same parents in Geneva was found to be of sufficient importance to telegraph the news to England. This has caused a London paper to remark that there has been larger families in England than that of the Swiss, and the writer proceeds to say that a county history of Cumberland relates that at Kirtcote Moor, in 1797, "a man and his wife accompanied by their 30 children might have been seen proceeding to church to the christening of their thirty-first."

Cost Rica.

Costa Rica is one of the small republics of Central America which threw off Spanish sovereignty in 1821. Since then it has been an independent state ruled at times by dictators and at times having a constitution and a republican form of government, which is its present condition. The area is estimated at 23,000 square miles, which is a little more than the area of Nova Scotia.

Beware of Too Much Sugar.

Sugar is a salt. Every salt is desiccating. Sugar is the most desiccating of all salts. It sucks up the liquids from the blood through the veins; thence comes the coagulation, then the solidification of the blood; thence the tubercles in the lungs; thence death. LAST LEAGUE GAME TONIGHT

At Armory Court When Albany Opposes Local Leaders—Quorum Fails to Attend League Meeting.

Tonight at the armory court the last league game of the season will be played here. Albany comes here to battle with the Morgenwerk clan to try and put the local league leaders below them in league standing. The result of tonight's struggle will forecast who is to wear the crown of champions of the second half race.

Throughout the season the Senators have been strong contenders for the first place in league standing and always Kingston's strongest opponents. Big crowds have always turned out to see these teams battle as a strong game would always result. Marty Friedman, who some time ago retired from the court, is expected to again be here with Hen-Install's cohorts. The rest of the upstate team will be made up from Sedran, Russell, Conway, Matthews and Joe Brennan.

The Kingston outfit will be strengthened by Morris Tome this evening. Tome will undoubtedly play guard with Harvey, with Charlie Powers at center and Borkman and C. Husta in the forward position. The referee for tonight's struggle has not been announced but it hardly will be Chuck Solodar, as Albany has said on numerous occasions that Referee Solodar didn't give them a square deal.

For the first time in the history of the league a quorum failed to attend the regular schedule meeting of the league Sunday at Schenectady. Only three managers reached Schenectady and no business was transacted. It had been expected that the meeting would be marked by announcement of decision by Commissioner Chandler on protest games.

CATSKILL HIGH BEATS BIG ALL-SCHOLASTIC FIVE

Catskill High School defeated the All-Scholastics of Schenectady on Friday night on the Catskill court by a 57-11 score. The All-Scholastic team had three members of last year's Schenectady High School team in its lineup. Schenectady High was defeated by one point for the state championship last season. The Kingston High School basketball team plays Catskill at Catskill this Friday night.

CLEVELAND HAS STRICTER SURVEY

Surveys are in style now. There are industrial surveys, statistical surveys, merchandising, building and financial surveys. Nearly everything imaginable that is carefully planned is accompanied by a survey.

It has been left for the manufacturers of the Cleveland Six, sold here by Broadway Garage, to inaugurate an automotive survey for the new car buyer.

The Cleveland survey for the owner calls attention to many hidden features of the car that are not ordinarily brought to his attention during an ordinary inspection or demonstration.

BRENNAN HAS NOTHING TO GAIN BY WINNING

(By Davis J. Walsh.)

New York, March 12.—For no particular reason, except that the customers seem to want it, Bill Brennan and Luis Angel Firpo, the sad-faced gentleman from South America, will meet tonight in a fifteen-round bout and by the morrow, it is presumed that "the only legitimate contender" for the heavyweight title, will have been uncovered.

The candidate, of course, is the Senior, flat feet and all. Brennan has nothing to live for, in a pugilistic sense. He was only a good second rate at his best and those days have gone forever.

There are quite a few disinterested critics who believe that Firpo may yet develop into one of the greatest heavyweights of a generation. Just at the moment, he looks like a set-up for the first speedy man who happens along.

Poughkeepsie Beat Hudson

Poughkeepsie High School defeated Hudson High School at Hudson on Friday by a 16-14 score. Coach Kallach gave Hudson an opportunity to get in the lead in the third quarter when he put in the Poughkeepsie substitutes. However, it wasn't long before the regulars were put in again and they soon tied the score. With fifteen seconds to play and the score tied at 14 all, Palmer put in a field from very near the middle of the floor which won the game for Poughkeepsie.
